

COLORED SCHOOLS WILL OBSERVE RALLY DAY

Program Announced by Teachers Association Is Highly Commended by Superintendent Stearnes.

Rally Day will be observed in the colored schools throughout Virginia on Friday, November 20. The Teachers' Association and School Improvement League has issued a program of the exercises and a circular of information which are being distributed among teachers of every public school in the State. The slogan is "Away with illiteracy; a good school in every community, and every child in regular attendance."

E. A. Long, of Cambria, Va., is president of the Negro Teachers' Association and Improvement League of Virginia. The negro teachers of the State in their annual meeting of the State association for the last three years, reported the amounts raised for improvements of negro schools as follows: 1911-1912, $15,383; 1912-1913, $2,893; 1913-1914, $42,910. It is said that this record cannot be duplicated by any other State in the South.

R. C. Stearnes, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, regarding the work of the Negro Teachers' Association, said: "I am very much interested in the plan of the Negro Teachers' Association to foster the observation of patrons' day in the schools of the State. There is no single feature of our school life that means more to us than the observation of patrons' day. We find that where the patrons meet regularly each year to observe patrons' day, they learn to take a deeper interest in the affairs of the school. The result is that they meet on other days for civic league work, the school houses and playgrounds are improved, and the civic school work of the community takes on new life."

Used Defective Measures.
M. Smith was yesterday fined $5 and costs in the Police Court when arraigned on a warrant charging him with using measures which had been allowed to get in a bad condition. The charges were brought against the man by T. W. Joseph, city inspector of weights and measures.

Shoplifting Case Continued.
The case against Henrietta Price colored, who is charged with shoplifting in the Cohen Company's store, was yesterday continued until Saturday in the Police Court. The woman says she purchased the articles which J. A. Jewell, a floor walker, alleges he saw her steal. They consisted of a pair of scissors and a few articles of wearing apparel, valued at $4.75.

Case Is Dismissed.
The case against Mrs. Mazie Hunt and J. L. Hardway, charged with disorderly conduct, and once convicted in the Police Court, has been dismissed after a rehearing of the evidence had been allowed by Justice Griggs.

Fined $25 and Costs.
James Watkins, charged with assault on Bilo Washington with a brick, was yesterday fined $25 and costs in the Police Court. The man was arrested by Police Sergeant C. M. Johnson.

Cruelty to Horse.
H. H. George was yesterday fined $10 and costs by Justice Griggs when arraigned in the Police Court on complaint of Emmett Taylor, who charged him with torturing a horse.
